

Mayor Kristie S. Overson

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

I've said it before and it's true: All I need to do is look at the youth in our community to know how bright the future is for Taylorsville. Their care about others, desire to learn and do more, and determination to make the world a better place inspires me every time I am with them.

This past month, I had the great opportunity to accompany members of the Youth Council to the Utah League of Cities & Towns Local Elected Officials Day at the Utah State Capitol. Along with Council Members Anna Barbieri, Ernest Burgess and Meredith Harker, we met with state legislators, as well as Gov. Spencer Cox and Lt. Gov. Deidre Henderson, toured the Capitol and learned about the legislative process. This day is a yearly tradition for our Youth Council and is such an excellent opportunity for them (See more on Page 5 of this section).

By serving on the Youth Council, our young men and women are empowered to become involved in civic opportunities and carry out service. They work as a force for good in our community.

The three most important skills our youth learn from serving on our Youth Council are: 1. Process of government. 2. Leadership. 3. Service. This is knowledge they will take with them and use throughout their lives. It also is so much fun to be around the kids. They keep me young! I love the interaction and the connections I make with them and their families. I enjoy seeing them honing their leadership skills.

In addition to the Youth Council, students Emma Powers and Brandon Sorensen also serve as Taylorsville Youth Ambassadors. The Youth Ambassadors are seniors who have spent at least a year on the Youth Council and must organize and complete their own service project.

I must give a particular shoutout to Emma, who made a remarkable impact with her service project this year. Not only did she work to collect warm clothing for the homeless through several holiday drives she organized, but she also secured matching grants. The owners of The Crossroads of Taylorsville shopping center worked with the Rescue Mission of Salt Lake to make a $5,000 donation, and then this monetary gift qualified for a matching grant of equal value by another donor.

I love each of our Youth Council members. They have such a heart for service, for which I am most grateful. I am so proud of them and all they do for our community.

—Mayor Kristie S. Overson

City Leaders and State Legislators Working Together on Several Issues

Taylorsville leaders have identified several priorities and are tracking a number of issues before the Legislature this year. Among them are funding to fire departments, workers compensation coverage for volunteers and various transportation projects.

"We are so lucky," said Mayor Kristie Overson. "Our elected representatives are remarkably responsive, and their dedication to meeting the needs of our Taylorsville community and residents is unmatched."

Mayor Overson and city staff met with legislators representing Taylorsville at a Jan.

6 luncheon at City Hall prior to the start of the 2022 General Session of the 64th Utah Legislature on Jan. 18. In attendance were Reps. Jim Dunnigan and Karen Kwan and Sens. Wayne Harper and Karen Mayne, as well as Rep. Mark Wheatley, whose district will include a portion of Taylorsville following the next General Election, due to redistricting.

This year's 45-day session will run until midnight on March 4. Taylorsville's legislators want citizens to know that they are working hard to represent the city and its residents and are focused on furthering Taylorsville's interests and goals. City leaders remain in constant contact with representatives, to ensure the community's needs are met. Representing Taylorsville are:

Rep. Dunnigan, House District 39. Rep. Dunnigan was a member of the Taylorsville/Bennion Community Council before helping to organize Taylorsville as a city and then serving on its inaugural City Council. He also is chairman of the city's Taylorsville Dayzz and owns an insurance firm. To contact Rep. Dunnigan, call 801-840-1800 or email jdunnigan@le.utah.gov.

Rep. Kwan, House District 34. Rep. Kwan was elected to the

COUNCIL CORNER

Lifelong Taylorsville Resident Joins Council as Our Newest Member

By Council Member Bob Knudsen

As the newest member of Team Taylorsville, I was asked to give a quick introduction. For a greater introduction, please review the article written by Carl Fauver about me in the December 2021 issue of the City Journal.

Except for two years spent serving a mission for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in British Columbia, Canada, I have lived in Taylorsville my entire life, in three different homes 0.4 miles between the furthest two by the "taxicab distance" or approximately 1,200 feet according to the "way the crow flies."

I am a father of three boys, ages 9, 6 and 4, and have been married to my sweetheart, Susan, for 10 years. I have been working for the University of Utah for the past 15 years, and I am grateful for this opportunity to serve Taylorsville City, the place I call home.

Former District 5 Council Member Dan Armstrong told me that he was going to step down from the City Council, and he encouraged me to run to take his seat. I was honored to have him consider me a good fit for his spot, so after consideration about what this could mean for our family, my wife, Susan, and I decided that I should run — especially with the blessing of our oldest son who told me that he would be thrilled to share his dad with Taylorsville.

During my campaign, I was asked about what my biggest agenda items were for the city and what I hoped to accomplish. My immediate goal would be to make sure I provide another balanced voice to the Council so we can continue with the great progress that has been made. Having observed Council meetings for the prior year to assuming office, I can confidently say that I have seen a good, respectful City Council working with Mayor Kristie Overson for the city's best interest, especially during times when not all have agreed on every issue.

Knowing the challenges faced, particularly as everyone had to make drastic changes due to the COVID-19 pandemic, I am even more impressed by the leadership. With the great momentum that we have, I would like to ensure that we can continue forward while fairly considering all items.

I would also like to thank all those who participated by casting votes in the Primary and General Elections for me and fellow candidates Larry Johnson and Paul Schulte, both good men whom I consider friends. We are blessed to be in this country where we are able to participate in elections.

If you would like to contact me, I would be happy to talk to you, and I will do my best to be available as quickly as possible (estimated within one business day, seeing as I am retaining my full-time employment with the University of Utah, in addition to the work with our City Council).

Thank you, all, for the support you have shown me during this time, and I am grateful to all those in the city staff and Council who have welcomed me so warmly to Team Taylorsville; I could not ask for a better group to be able to work with. I am thrilled to be able to serve this wonderful city of ours for the next four years!

City Council Elects New Leadership

City Council Members Anna Barbieri and Meredith Harker have been elected by their colleagues to serve as the council's respective Chair and Vice Chair. Both were selected to serve in the leadership positions during the Jan. 5 City Council meeting.

Chair Barbieri, who previously served as a Planning Commissioner, said she has always had a love for Utah and working in a community setting. Barbieri is a small business owner. Vice Chair Harker, who is a teacher at Calvin Smith Elementary School, also expressed her commitment to continuing to make Taylorsville the best city to be. She is a lifelong Taylorsville resident.

Barbieri represents District 3, while Harker represents District 4.

"We extend our congratulations and want to thank them for their service," said Mayor Kristie Overson. "Both already represent Taylorsville so well, and they each care a great deal about our community. We look forward to continuing to work with them in these new roles."

Meredith Harker

City Council Members, Mayor are Sworn In

City Council Members Anna Barbieri, Meredith Harker and Bob Knudsen, as well as Mayor Kristie Overson, were sworn in Jan. 5 following their elections in November.

Mayor Overson and Council Member Harker were both re-elected, while Council Member Barbieri was elected following a mid-term appointment and Council Member Knudsen was voted in to serve his first term, representing District 5.

Getting to Know

TVPD

TVPD Celebrates Fifth-Grade Holiday Card Design Winners

Get to know the new TVPD. Check this space each month for articles highlighting the units and employees that make up the Taylorsville City Police Department.

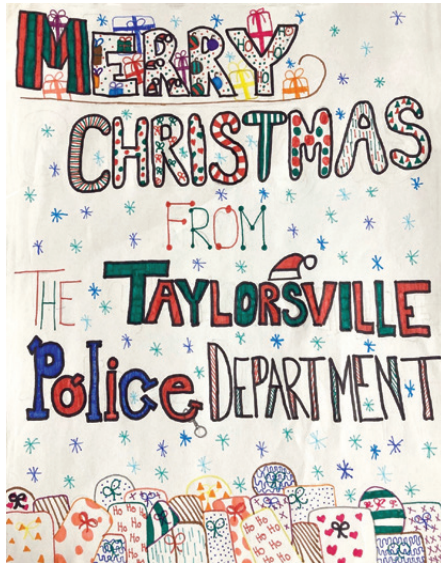

Congratulations to our two 2021 Taylorsville fifth-grade holiday card design winners — Nevaeh Teo of Acradia Elementary (Mrs. Hunsaker's class) and Ezekiel Cryer of Fox Hills Elementary (Mrs. Kambouris' class).

It has been a long tradition of the Taylorsville Police Department to solicit help from local fifth-graders to design our official holiday card. In addition to having their drawings featured on the card, the winners will be taken to lunch by Mayor Kristie Overson, Chief Brady Cottam and Dets. Kyle Andrew and Daniel Christensen, who act as liaisons with our local elementary schools. The goal of this program is simply to provide positive experiences between our law enforcement officers and local fifth-grade and elementary school-age students.

More than 250 entries were submitted to our holiday card contest this year. As the winners, Ezekiel and Nevaeh, along with their families, attended the Jan. 5 City Council meeting where they were introduced to the council and administration. It was a full house as many of our elected officials were also sworn in that night. Ezekiel and Nevaeh did not shy at the opportunity; they stood before a packed house and were presented as the card winners.

Nevaeh's mom describes her as a blessing to their family and someone who is always kind and willing to help. Nevaeh enjoys P.E. and social studies classes, playing board games and volleyball. Ezekiel is described as fun and outgoing. He loves math, video games, sports and music. Both Ezekiel and Nevaeh, of course, also love drawing.

We thank both students, as well as all the fifth-graders who participated. We are also grateful to all educators in the community — their great examples — and recognize the role each plays in shaping our future generations.

TVPD Employee of the Month

Please join us in congratulating Records Manager Donny Gasu as our TVPD Employee of the Month. Gasu is a member of our civilian staff and has over 10 years' experience working in Law Enforcement. Gasu has worked for both Unified Police Department and Taylorsville Police Department. He has also worked directly for the City of Taylorsville as emergency planning manager. In total, he has served the citizens of Taylorsville for more than 12 years. Gasu has served in various capacities, which include evidence technician, emergency planning manager and records manager.

Gasu always has a positive attitude and is willing to tackle any challenge or task that is assigned to him. It is this positive attitude that prompted Chief

Brady Cottam to nominate Gasu as Employee of the Month. Chief Cottam described Gasu's positive attitude as contagious and called his work ethic and willingness to learn as unmatched.

As TVPD continues to evolve and implement innovative ideas, Gasu was tasked with creating a new statistical tracking method for the department. This data will be presented at City Council meetings to our local elected, city and police administration officials on a regular basis. Gasu was able to create this while also staying on top of his regularly assigned duties. This newly designed statistical presentation method will help our city leaders determine how to best allocate resources within TVPD and Taylorsville City.

We appreciate Gasu's dedication to the citizens of Taylorsville and Team Taylorsville. We thank him for his service!

Youth Council Participates in Day at Legislature

The Taylorsville Youth Council spent the day at the Legislature this past month. They joined Mayor Kristie Overson, Council Members Anna Barbieri, Ernest Burgess and Meredith Harker, and Youth Council Advisor Kris Heineman for the Utah League of Cities & Towns Local Elected Officials Day at the Utah State Capitol.

It is a yearly tradition for the Youth Council to attend the day, which provides an excellent opportunity for the youth to talk to legislators and see first-hand how the process works.

"It was a really fun day for the kids, and it was interesting to see their perspectives," said Mayor Overson. "Our youth handled themselves very well. They were well-spoken and articulate, and we want to thank them for representing Taylorsville so well."

In addition to touring the Capitol Jan. 19, the Youth Council met with legislators, as well as Gov. Spencer Cox and Lt. Gov. Deidre Henderson. They listened to a floor session, learned about the process to design a new state flag, were invited to lunch and took a tour of the building. It was all part of the council mission to provide opportunities for young people to learn about and participate in local government.

Taylorsville GIS Planner Honored for Redistricting Efforts

Taylorsville GIS Planner Karyn Kerdolff was honored before the City Council this past month for her invaluable volunteer efforts assisting the Utah Independent Redistricting Commission.

Last May, the commission put out a call throughout the Wasatch Front for volunteers to assist with mapping. Kerdolff was among those who stepped forward, volunteering her time and efforts to run the GIS (geographic information system) software.

"What was really nice," said Utah Independent Redistricting Commissioner Jeff Baker, "was that she didn't just drive the software, she did much more than that; she would engage with us."

Throughout the process, Kerdolff offered advice and direction on the mapping process, Baker noted. During a time where the commission staff was taxed heavily with various different administrative duties in addition to GIS planning, "volunteers such as Karyn literally made the difference between the commission failing and the commission succeeding," he said. "And we did succeed in our work."

Kerdolff was awarded a plaque recognizing her "service and dedication to the people of Utah and the 2021 Utah Independent Redistricting Commission. Your effort and sacrifice helped create opportunities for all Utahns to have a voice in the redistricting process."

Mayor Kristie Overson said the commendation is well deserved. "Karyn is an invaluable part of Team Taylorsville," she said. "Not only do we depend on her work, which is impeccable, but we are so grateful to have her as a friend. Her cheery and helpful nature brings sunshine to City Hall."

The Utah Independent Redistricting Commission was created in 2018 through the passage of Utah Proposition 4. It was composed of seven commissioners – appointed by both Democratic and Republican party leaders – with the chair appointed by the governor. Their job was to recommend maps of congressional, state Senate, state House and state school board districts for final consideration by the Legislature.

"We enjoy such a good relationship with each," Mayor Overson said. "Our legislators are attentive and responsive. I have full confidence in them and their abilities."

Efforts and potential bills discussed at the city luncheon with legislators included:

- Increasing the level of up-front funding to local fire departments that provide support to out-of-state agencies (such as the extensive fires that occurred in California).
- Allowing for workers compensation coverage for volunteer workers (they are currently not covered).
- Clarifying who pays for criminal evidence retention costs.
- Defining standards of classification for condemned housing.
- Various transportation projects (4700 South, Redwood Road BRT, bridge repairs).

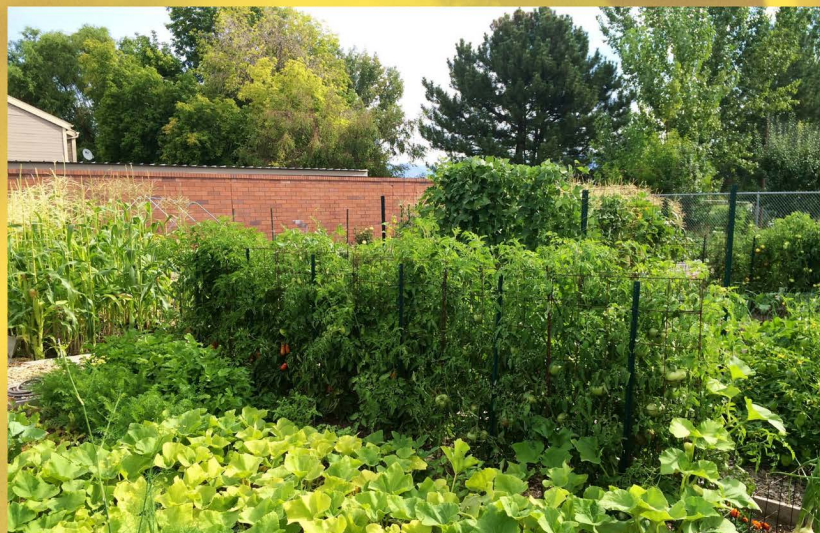

In addition to the legislative luncheon, Mayor Overson and members of the Taylorsville Youth Council participated in the Utah League of Cities & Towns (ULCT) Local Elected Officials Day on Jan. 19. It is a yearly tradition for the Youth Council to attend the day, which provides an excellent opportunity for the youth to talk to legislators and see first-hand how the process works. (See pictures on Page 5).

Mayor Overson also plans to attend the ULCT Legislative Policy Committee meeting, held every Monday (except President's Day) at noon in Room 210 of the Senate Building on the Capitol campus.

FEBRUARY UPDATES

Subscription Green Waste Program

The Weekly Green Waste Collection Program will resume beginning Thursday, March 17, for Taylorsville residents. Taylorsville currently has 1,298 out of the 9,478 district-wide subscribers.

Residents can sign up and help divert green waste from the landfill. The waste is processed into mulch, which can then be purchased for use from the Salt Lake Valley and Trans-Jordan landfills. There is a onetime start-up fee of $60 to pay for the can and at $126 per year, a green waste can is less expensive than an additional black garbage can at $204 per year. For more information on this program, please visit the WFWRD website at wasatchfrontwaste.org/green-waste-can-rental.

Broken/Damaged Cans

If your garbage or recycle can is broken or damaged, due to normal wear-and-tear, please call the WFWRD office at 385-468-6325. They will come and repair or replace your cans as part of your fees for services. You can also complete an online service order request at wasatchfrontwaste.org/report-a-problem-or-request-service.

The recycling markets continue to improve and it's important to take the time to familiarize yourself with items that are recyclable. To help out, WFWRD has recycling guides that can be found on their website. They also sent them out with first-quarter billing statements last year.

By reducing contamination and keeping plastic bags out of recycling, the district can continue to keep costs low for residents. Remember, when in doubt, throw it out!

Fixing Service Lines Often Starts with 'Who owns it?'

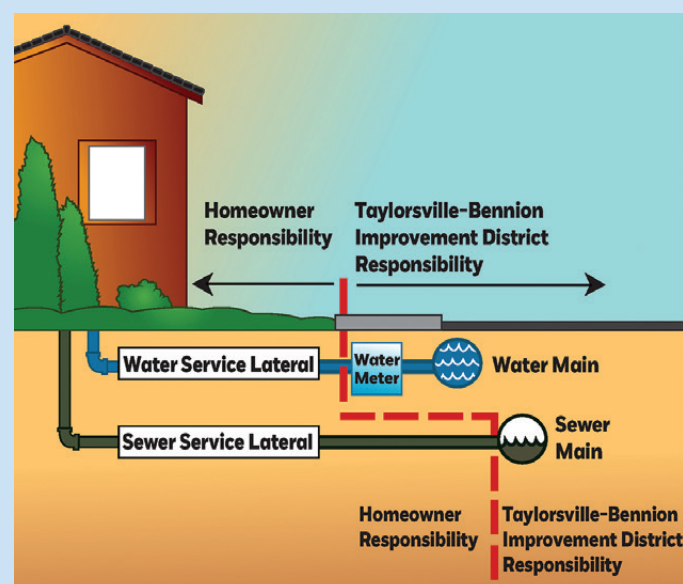

A question often asked when a water service line is leaking or if there is a blockage in a sewer lateral is: "Whose responsibility is it?"

A water service line is a pipe that conveys water from a large water main to the home. The homeowner and the Taylorsville-Bennion Improvement District have responsibilities for portions of the water service line. The district owns and maintains the water service line from the water main, which is normally located in the road or park strip, into the meter box that services the home. The homeowner is responsible for maintaining and repairing the water service line after it leaves the meter box.

A sewer lateral is a pipe that takes wastewater away from the home. The homeowner owns, maintains, repairs and replaces the sewer lateral and connection to the sewer main as needed. The district maintains the sewer main that receives the wastewater from the homeowners' sewer lateral.

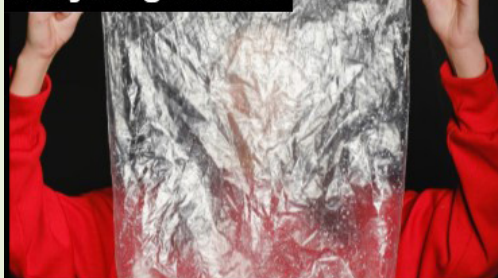

For financial protection, it is recommended that homeowners contact their homeowners' insurance company or consider third-party insurance for coverage on water and sewer laterals.

If you have any questions, please contact Taylorsville-Bennion Improvement District by calling 801-968-9081 or visiting www.tbid.org. Follow TBID on Facebook and Twitter.

RECYCLING

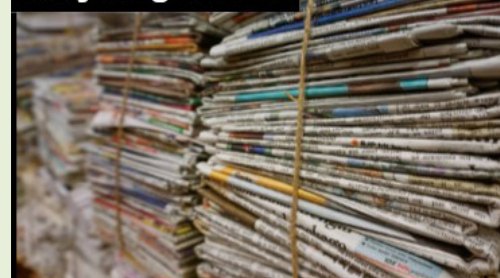

Recycling Rule #3

If an item is made of flimsy plastic and can be balled up in your fist, then it is not recyclable.

Recycling Rule #1

Make sure recyclables are free from food, grease, and liquids. Dirty items can contaminate your can!
